Now in its third edition, Kenneth Hamer's Professional Conduct Casebook continues to be the only book to provide a comprehensive coverage of the growing body of case law in this field and is an indispensable source of reference for every regulatory and disciplinary lawyer. Containing 85 chapters conveniently grouped in an easy-to-use A-Z format, it analyses the key cases in a single portable volume, distilling the general principles from the legislative framework, and offering lucid and informed summaries for today's busy practitioner. Key words are included in the margin beside each case to enable the reader to see at a glance the critical features of the case in question.

New to this edition:

- Fully updated with all relevant case law
- Expanded chapters dealing with procedural issues, findings of fact, insight, impairment, misconduct, deficient professional performance, proportionality and sanctions
- New structure so that cases of healthcare, legal and other professionals are grouped within chapters and easily identified
- A short commentary at the end of each chapter summarizing the key points

Kenneth Hamer is an experienced barrister and former Recorder of the Crown Court. He sits as a legally qualified chair at the General Medical Council (Medical Practitioners Tribunal Service) and is a legal adviser/legal assessor to the General Dental Council and the Nursing and Midwifery Council. He regularly represents regulators and practitioners in a range of professional conduct cases, as well as advising and lecturing on fitness to practise processes. He is the joint editor of the Association of Regulatory and Disciplinary Lawyers' Quarterly Bulletin and a council member of the Incorporated Council of Law Reporting in England and Wales.
